The Decade of Action on Nutrition is an opportunity for countries to make specific and measurable commitments to nutrition and track these alongside progress on the targets for 2025 (an interactive tracking tool for the targets is available at http://www.who.int/nutrition/trackingtool/en/)

Countries should invest in the use of routine nutrition data from primary health facilities to inform responsive nutrition programming, surveillance and monitoring.

http://www.afro.who.int/publications/nutrition-who-african-region